Hi Don,

Following up on your texts. BSS is saying the project is done and they are out of funds. I may be able to wrangle them to do this last item but we need to work out that you will sign the acceptance notice.

Given that funds are officially dry on this, I am going to have to get calls other than myself to higher ups. I am willing to do this but we need to have a game plan to accept the project. We can't circle back and make more demands of BSS. Perhaps the hold harmless element we can still push on.

Give me a call with your thoughts.

Kind regards,
